

I moved to St Erth from Essex one year ago with my husband and two daughters. Before I had my children I was a Learning Support Assistant (LSA) in a Special Educational Needs school. While employed as an LSA I completed a BA Honours in Special Educational Needs and Inclusive education. After my degree I completed my PGCE to become a qualified teacher. I taught in a school in Walthamstow, London for six years and fulfilled additional SENCO duties and was elected as a staff governor.

To have the role of a parent governor and coming from an educational background I believe I will have a strong commitment to improving the outcomes of children. I look forward to training on the latest requirements and expectations and to develop my skills in order to make an effective contribution to governance. Although my eldest daughter has only attended St Erth school for a short while she is extremely happy there and loves to be greeted in the morning by Mr Coleman and Mrs Thomas.
